

Credit Program

For sustained volunteerism and native plant sharing

ANPP acknowledges the immense value of sustained volunteerism and native plant sourcing and propagation is to our mission. This document describes the opportunity to receive plants or membership dues waivers in exchange for these generous donations. While most of our members gladly donate their time and plants without expectation of reward, we offer this program to reduce any burden associated with promoting our mission.

For sustained volunteerism: Credit for annual membership dues can be earned by any ANPP member who works at least 12 work days in 12 months with any of ANPP's planned activities in propagation, education, demonstration or collaboration. The volunteer can request this credit in a reply to the annual membership renewal email sent by the ANPP Treasurer, who will verify your eligibility with the appropriate chair(s).

For native plant donations: Credit for ANPP plants or annual membership dues is available upon request. The Propagation Chair will determine which species and specimens qualify for this credit. The plants to be donated should be delivered to the greenhouse on a work day and presented to the Propagation chair unless other arrangements are made.

- A credit for ANPP plants can be requested for donating saleable native plants at ~4:1 ratio. For example, donating twelve 4" pots can be exchanged for up to three 4" pots or one 1-gallon pot from our inventory.
- Annual membership dues can be waived for donation of at least 25 established native plants from your personal property by replying to the renewal email to the ANPP Treasurer, who will verify your donation with the Propagation Chair.
